

Skull osteomas are slow-growing benign mature bony tumor. When multiple, Gardner syndrome should be considered. It may present as very dense radiodense lesions similar to cortex in radiographic study. It may also demonstrate central marrow in some subtype.